POEM FOR TODAY

"IF"

By Rudyard Kipling.

If you can keep your head
When all about you are losing theirs
And blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself
When all men doubt you
And allowance for their doubting too,
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about - don't deal in lies,
Or being hated - don't give way to hating
And yet don't look too good nor talk too wise,

If you can dream and not make dreams your master, country, its leaders, and If you can think and not make thoughts your aim, their flag, more so than If you can meet with Triumph and Disasters any other group of people And treat those two imposters just the same, If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken school at St.Peter and 'Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools, Or watch the things you gave your life to broken Thomas, I met many child-And stoop and build them up with worn-out tools ren of Anguillans, Their

If you can make one heap of all your winnings and risk it on one turn of pitch and loss, and lose - and start again at your beginnings and never breathe a word about your loss, If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew To serve your turn long after they are gone So hold on when there is nothing in you Except the will which says to them, "Hold On,"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, Or walk with kings nor lose the common touch, If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you If all men count with you - but none too much, If you can fill the unforgiving minute With sixty seconds worth of distance run Yours is the earth and every thing that's in it And which is more You'll Be a Man, My Son. LETTER (Cont'd from P.2) Anguillans most of all.
In my dealings with your people, I found them to be the most honest, hard working, loyal to their country, its leaders, and their flag, more so than any other group of people.

When I was teaching school at St.Peter and Paul High School in St. Thomas, I met many children of Anguillans.Their good manners and politeness, made it a pleasure to have them in my class. In fact all the teachers, both the lay teachers and Sisters, enjoyed working with the Anguilla children God bless all Anguillans.

Sincerely,

John B. Underhill

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Mr. Editor, As a citizen and parent I cannot be interested in the progress of the island unless I am interested in the Children and also in the teachers into whose care these youths are entrusted for the formative years of their lives. I am profoundly disappointed to learn of the recent behaviour of H.M. Commissioner to these educationists during a meeting which he himself summoned and which it would seem was politically designed although Civil Servants are brain-washed to regard politics as being out of their pale.

One is left to wonder what will happen to education here, as a dissatisfied and provoked teaching service can do much harm. However, I know that there is an active Teachers' Union and I hope it will fise to the accasion and demand the respect and prestige due to its members.

Are we really fast becoming subservient that some one can insult the teachers or anyone for that matter, and then walk away without being questioned?

Surely this presages the exodus of the remaining loyal teachers and we cannot blame them. I underestand too, that although the meeting in question was specifically for a practising teachers, there were three other persons present who may have to fill the vacancies which will surely be created.

My personal feeling is that Anguilla, especially at this time, cannot afford to lose its few experienced teachers and trust to luck to have them replaced. It has already been staggered by the loss of those who were forced to leave because of unfair treatment and outside interference. This is enough to teach us a lesson.

BRITAIN VS. ANGUILLA.

By Ronald Webster, (Con't from last week) (Reprinted from 'LIFE' April 14th 1969)

I asked London to give Anguilla a separate statute, to get away from St.Kitts' administration. I asked for associate status direct with Britain. I asked them for colonial status, even though that's not what we wanted. But Britain said no: Anguilla must return to constitutional rule under St.Kitts. So we opted for independence. We were to frame our own constitution.

In the London talks, I recognized very definitely that the British had some inferiority complex against me and the Anguillan people, I wasn't prepared then to say their actions were motivated by their racial fears, but this has since been borne out by the invasion. France gave the people on St. Martin a chance to choose their status, and now they are French citizens. Before the invasion, Anguilla would have preferred status with Britain to independence. But it has become clear that Britain doesn't want this arrangement. Other islands would also want it, I can only conclude that Britain doesn't want black people in Britain,

As we moved toward a vote on independence, the British tried to block us. On Jan.9, this year, I received a letter from Britain stating that H.M.G. were withdrawing all aid and technical assistance. There was, however, very little to withdraw. No enormous sums were lost, but six technicians went home. By this time the Anguillan people had hardened hearts against the British. The referendum for independence, held on Feb. 6, was overwhelming: in favor, 1,739; opposed 4. As a result I became the acting Present, and an election for present was scheduled. We could not hold the election towever, because no one would oppose me.

At this point, the British stopped neglecting Anguilla, Their intelligence "discovered" that, amidst a breakdown of law and order, the Mafia was about to take over our island for a gambling resort. As to the first concern, I must point out that the only crime for which any Anguillan has been convicted in recent memory is swearing. This is not a common offence, but it is dealt with by a fine ranging from E.C.$15 to E.C.$20, depending on the severity of the abuse.

As to the Mafia, these incredible charges must have been fed to the British government by Tony Lee as our trial separation from St. Kitts was ending. This meant that Lee's services as British representative on Anguilla would also end. He would evidently, be out of work. Lee had approached an American businessman living on Anguilla, Jack Holcomb, about forming a partnership to develop small industry on the island. Lee and Holcomb had wanted work as partners, but I was not in favor of Holcomb's enterprises, and our elected council rejected his plans. Ironically, when the British arrived, one of the first to be deported was Tony Lee's friend Holcomb. (Continued Next Week). DEATH (continued from page 5,) six Childeen, 43 Grand Children and 40 Great Grand Children, To the bereaved family, we tender our deepest Sympathy,

EDITORIAL:

We have heard over Radio Anguilla that Brother Goodge (Baptist Pastor) is opening "Island Harbour Christian School" on Sept 8th. (A private school)government's policy. It is public knowledge that Brother Goodge operated a Kindergarten school at Island Harbour, and is generally believed that it did some good to the infants attending that school, who at the age of five went to the Gov't Primary School, (Children are admitted to the Gov't school at the age of five). Now the report says that the "Island Harbour Christian School will teach up to four grades. It is said that the school will be Non-sectarian, and is believed that it could be a great help to the island. However this may be, Gov't is responsible for all its citizens and owe an obligation to after them in every way possible, This leaves us to ask many questions

What is the education policy of this school? what arrangements have been made for the children after they reach grade 4 Will those learning at that stage qualify to enter Gov't school at grade five? Has there been allowances for exams at that stage, for them to enter Gov't school or any other higher school. It is hoped that parents will take all these things into account for the best interest of their children. Gov't also owes them, an obligation to look after them, but we fail to find any records of the Anguilla Council giving permission for the operations of such a school. The chairman of the education Committee reported that the matter had never reached his Commit It would seem as though somebody is slipping up some where, and soon we may have some idiots opening a University someplace else. We have no objections against any system that would help educate our people but it must be in collaboration with
